We are exploring future careers that may be of interest to you. We have a chance to do some exploration together with an online course called Essence of Healing: The Journey of American Indian Nurses e-Campus Course. The course is based on the profession of nursing, pathways into nursing, and features stories of American Indian nurses in North Dakota and their experiences in school and work. Whether or not you are interested in a career in health and healing, this course has a lot of valuable information and resources. It will take us about two weeks, spending 30 minutes or so each day, to finish the program.

I have some information about the program for you to share with your families. Please take the handout home with you and make sure it gets to your parents or guardian. This is for their information – they do not need to sign or return anything unless they do not want you to take part in the program.

As you continue through high school, there will be many ways to explore careers, schools and work opportunities. This is just one way that we're helping to give you a start on getting the information you need to make good choices about the path ahead.
